VISION Relocation Group
Forms The Vision Alliance™

November 30, 2005 (Fairfax, Va.) – Rebecca Spencer, CRP, president of VISION Relocation Group announced that the company has formed a network of relocation service partners to enhance delivery to its clients. The Vision Alliance™ is comprised of businesses including move management firms, visa & immigration companies and global departure and destination services providers in the United States and 160 other countries. The members of The Vision Alliance have signed partnership agreements with VISION that reflect business goals and strategies based on mutual success.

According to Spencer, “Our commitment to the global relocation industry and our clients is solidified with this endeavor to partner with the best of the best. Our clients depend on us to enhance the supply chain value to their respective companies. By forming The Vision Alliance, we’re reinforcing our commitment to that role in our client relationships.”

Amy Foley, director of Vision Alliance Resources, formed and will manage the relationships with the businesses participating in The Vision Alliance. According to Foley, “The Vision Alliance is much more than a network of brokers, appraisers and global destination services providers. It's a true partnership – a commitment to mutual success. We purposefully chose our members and will only work with those whose business strategies are aligned with our values. They must share our 'service-first' philosophy and clearly demonstrate their expertise and commitment within their particular industry segment and geographic region.”

Foley, who came to VISION from Hewlett-Packard, has a wealth of experience working with service providers throughout the world. Foley commented, “Having a corporate perspective was tremendously helpful when choosing members of The Vision Alliance. I found that the alliance members are anxious to work with us because of the upstanding reputation of our experienced staff, our culture and our commitment to support them as well as our clients.”
